Conducting implementation science in collaboration with experts across the translational science spectrum

Sarah Birken, PhD
Assistant Professor
University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

We will discuss Selove, Birken, et al. (2016) Implementation Science to Examine the Impact of Cancer Survivorship Care Plans during the interactive roundtable

Sarah Birken, PhD, is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Health Policy and Management at the Gillings School of Global Public Health, Director of the Program on Implementation and Organization Research (PRIOR) at the Cecil G. Sheps Center for Health Services Research, and an Associate Member of Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dr. Birken's research focuses on translating evidence into practice. Specifically, Dr. Birken studies middle managers' role in implementing evidence-based practices, the implementation of innovations in cancer care, and the selection and application of implementation theories. Dr. Birken also co-hosts the forthcoming AcaDames, a podcast about women in academia.
